POLICE CHIEF FIRM AGAINST FIREWORKS,

Again Declares It Would Be Serious Mistake to Allow Their Use on July 4.

MAYOR WILL DECIDE MONDAY.

Influence Has Been Brought to Bear on Him Through Persons Financially Interested to Modify His Intention.

Mayor Egenhein announced several days ago that he would issue a proclamation forbidding the use of freworks. Since then great pressure has been brought to bear on the Mayor by dealers who are financially interested, with a view to having him recede from his original position.

On the other hand the officials of the Police Department insert that to permit the use of fireworks at this time would involve great danger to life and property, because of the advantage which might be taken of the situation by a certain element.

They urge that if fireworks and the the halanc cartridge would siftord a plausible excuss for many a lenden bullet, and open creakers without the slightest chance of detection.

Mayor Zelgenhein said yesterolay that he would not decide before Monday whether to reconsider his first decision to issue a proclamation prohibiting the use of fireworks at this time would involve great danger to life and property, because of the advantage which might be taken of the situation by a certain element.

They urge that if fireworks are permitted all kinds must be allowed and then the blank cartridge would sifford a plausible excuss for many a lenden bullet, and open creakers without the slightest chance of detection.

Mayor Zelgenhein said yesterolay that he would not decide before Monday whether to reconsider his first decision to issue a proclamation prohibiting the use of rieworks on the Fourth so is greated and the control of the public public middle sections from the receipt to the public public my determination to prohibit fireworks on the Fourth so is proclamation to prohibit for the length of the public public my determination to prohibit for the public public my determination to prohibit for the public public my determination to prohibit fireworks on the Fourth so is proclamation to prohibit fire "I want to feel the public pulse first," said the Mayor. "It may be that I will find public sentiment in favor of a limited use of fireworks on the Fourth so strong that I will have to make some concessions to them. 'Vox populi vox dei,' you know. In any event, I shall not issue my preciamation before Monday. Meantime I am anxious to hear from the people. Up to the time that I stated to The Republic my determination to pronibit fireworks on the Fourth nine out of every ten men who had taiked to me about the matter had urged me to issue a proclamation. Since that notice was published I have been hearing from the other side."

ty, as she very seldom left her daughter's home.

About an hour after she disappeared from the Grand avenue neighborhood, Officer Dalton of the Central District found an old woman in his district acting in a peculiar manner. She seemed to be in a hysterical state and he stopped her and endeavored to get some information from her as to where she lived. She responded very disconnectedly, however, so the officer called an ambulance and had her taken to the City Hospital. Here it was thought she was suffering from a slight attack of dementia and she was held for observation. She said her name was Catherine Shannon and that she was a widow, but would say nothing more. Upon being asked questions she would break into ramblings about money troubles and would gradually work herself into a nervous state. She is believed to be the missing woman from Shenandoah street. Chief Campbell Shows Bangers.

Chief Campbell of the Police Department was even more firmly convinced yesterday than before that the use of fireworks on the Fourth should be forbidden absolutely. He said: "I have already stated that it would be the greatest conceivable mistake to allow the use of any kind of fireworks next Wednesday, and have so advised the Mayor. All of us know what the casually list of the Fourth of July generally is under other circumstances; now add the dangers from the present wrought-up feelings of a great portion of our population and some idea of the dangers may be conceived.

"I know the city is comparatively quiet now and itwieseness is waning, but there can be no doubt that there is a condition of suppressed excitement which in all probability would break loose with all the horrors of anarchy and riot if the slightest excuse is afforded.

"The members of the mobs that have disrobed women in the public streets and exposed them to public gaze are still alive and here, and it can hardly be doubted that men who would commit such diabolical deeds a week or so ago would not take advantage of the opportunities a wide-open Fourth presented to shoot a man down from cover or blow up a car.

"To capture murderers under such circumstances would be a practical impossibility, as no officer could tell from the sound the difference between a blank and a leaded shell, or dynamite and a cannon cracker, and again, in the endless confusion of sound it would be impossible to locate a shot that may have been fired with murdereus intent."

Wealthy California Young Women Found Wandering in Iowa.

Davenport, Ia., June 28—A young woman with papers in her possession that show her to be Miss Marion Bybee of San Francisco appeared at a farmhouse near here last Saturday, shoeless and with the appearance of having waiked a long distance. She said she had slopt under a blackberry bush the night before.

In her possession was the will of her grandfather, Francis V. Hubbard, of San Francisco, making her administratrix of his estate and bequesthing her blocks of stock of the Union Pacine Railway, the Oceanic Steamship Company, the Spring Valley Waterworks and other property. Her story is that she left San Francisco for New York, falled to find friends there whom she was to visit and started home. She left the Northwestern passenger train at Clinton and waiked twenty-two miles to the place where she was discovered to-day, Miss Bybee, who is evidently suffering from nervous prostration, has been cared for by farmers families.

Oilver Sopp of No. 3337 Klain street and Edward Boerding of No. 3332 Klain street, two members of the mob which surrounded the drug store of Florence B. Scholz, No. 5321 North Fourteenth street, in which Miss Mary Murray of East St. Louis took refuge after being pursued by the crowd for riding on a St. Louis Transit car Wednesday night, were fined 500 cach in the Second District Police Court yesterday.

Miss Murray came over from East St. Louis for the purpose of consulting Doctor Philip Scholz of No. 1339 North Fourteenth street about the filness of a member of her family. She took a Bellefontaine car at Third street and Washington avenue, and rode to Eleventh and Angelrodt streets, where she left the car. She started west on Angelrodt street, and was pursued by a crowd. She ran until she entered and slammed the door shut. Mr. Scholz locked the door, as he also did the back door of the store. His brother, Doctor Scholz, who was also in the drug store, telephoned to the police, and a patrol wagon, loaded with officers, was dispatched to the place. The crowd, which had remained outside the store, dispersed at the approach of the patrol wagon, excepting Sopp, who is a boy, and Boerding, who is an old man. They claimed they took no part in the demonstration. San Francisco, Cal., June 28.—Miss Marion Bybee, who was found near Davenport, lives in Les Catos, but she always made

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Texarkana, Tex., June 23.—The body of Wheat Whitaker, who was killed in an altercation at Shreveport yesterday, was brought to this city to-day for burial. He was the son of Benjamin Whitaker, who was for two terms State Senator from this district, and a nephew of Colonel W. L. Whitaker. Wheat Whitaker was educated at Washington and Lee University, and was a natural athlete. He served a term in the United States Navy with the Astatic squadrons for two years prior to the Spanish-American War. He is the third in his family to meet a tragic end. A younger brother named James was killed at Eldorado, Ark., two years ago, and Ben, the youngest of the brothers, was thrown from a horse and dragged to death.
